FACT OR FICTION?

The cartoon character Popeye is famous for eating spinach. Whenever he breaks open a can of spinach and eats it he gains enormous strength. Popeye was employed by the US Government during World War 2 to promote the idea of eating spinach. Meat was a rarity during war, but spinach appeared to be a great substitute. In the 1890's German scientists had shown that spinach contains the same amount of iron as meat. And iron of course is one of the essential vitamins in building strength.

But the facts are wrong. The German researchers did prove that spinach contains iron, but when they wrote down their results they put the decimal point in the wrong place. They overestimated the amount of iron in spinach by a factor of 10! Unfortunately, the correction didn't get across the ocean until after WW2.

Many today wonder if the same has happened with God's word. Skepticism concerning the reliability of God's word has led to unbelief in God. We question if there are mistakes in the bible that have originated from translation errors, scribal errors or even intentional alterations to promote doctrines favoured by those who transmitted God's word. Whatever our position regarding God's word we can stand on this fact. If God is all-powerful he can preserve the integrity of His word.

God Himself says, "All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of grass. The grass withers, and the flower falls, but the word of the Lord remains forever. And this word is the good news that was preached to you" (1 Peter 1:25).
